

Vaccination Videos now available on Well Newham website & YouTube channel

A set of videos co-produced with residents, schools and clinicians are now available to view on the Well Newham website and YouTube channel. These address common questions about vaccinations, providing answers from clinicians in empowering conversations with residents. They feature local people and locations so hopefully you'll be able to spot some familiar faces and places. Please note we are awaiting translated versions in different languages as well as British Sign Language, so watch this space for those.
